THE ENEMY IN YOUR WATER PIPE

Lime, rust and algae cause impure water, which is harmful to our health and household appliances.

The DAXTRO® EMTAP® Home Line works reliably against

RUST

Corrosion of metallic water pipes and screw connections

Metal water pipes are often a subject to corrosion as they age. The drinking water carries these rust particles with them and clogs the filter screens and fittings.

LIME

Lime deposits shorten the life of your piping system

Lime deposits also occur in stainless steel and plastic pipes. This happens in the cold water pipes, but especially in hot water pipes.

Lime causes costs and shortens the life of your devices

Increasing calcification reduces the efficiency of the devices such as kettles, washing machines or radiators and therefore require more energy.

Lime forms nasty stains and leaves residues on your valuable things

Ugly limescale stains on tiles and fittings require regular and time-consuming cleaning. Aggressive cleaning agents are often used, which damage the surfaces and the environment.

Lime is a breeding ground for bacteria

Lime deposits favour the livelihood of unwanted bacteria. With increasing calcification, the risk of contaminated drinking water increases.

ALGAE

Often no health hazard, but not very appetising

With enough light, water and food, algae thrive splendidly and settle as a thin layer in pipe systems, water filters, flower vases and swimming pools.

The 'red algae' most commonly form a coating on faucets, sinks and drinking water containers.

OUR SOLUTION

The patented DAXTRO® EMTAP® system reliably protects your entire pipe system.

Drinking water as an alternative to mineral water

Humans consist of two thirds of water. Therefore clean drinking water is a vital foundation for life as an important part of ones diet.

Refreshing, clear drinking water straight from the tap is a real alternative to expensive mineral water. To enjoy your drink, clean pipes without unwanted deposits are a basic requirement.

Why not solve this problem, now?

The DAXTRO® EMTAP® system removes existing deposits and protects your pipe system from contaminations.

Patented system with excellent effects

The patented EMTAP® technology sends defined frequency packets into the pipe system, which have an effect on the entire water system and protect the pipe system without chemicals, without filters and without salts. This system is easy to install and works on all pipe materials.

Environmentally friendly and inexpensive

Practical tests have shown that DAXTRO® EMTAP® achieves the same results as costintensive chemical processes. It also maintains a neutral composition, pH value and fresh taste of the drinking water without removing minerals from it.
